

NYEW Breakfast Series: Oil & Gas Oil Prices - Where do we go from here?

Powered and hosted by:

Date: Wednesday June 15, 2016

Time: 8:00 - 10:00am

Place: 300 Vesey Street, New York, NY 10282

Topic: The uncertainty within the oil and gas markets is at unprecedented levels. Plummeting oil prices, political pressure to reverse the trends of a warming climate, and global economic crises have all contributed to the challenges that these sectors currently face. This breakfast session presents a unique opportunity for governments, businesses, investors, and other stakeholders to engage in a rich dialogue over the rapidly evolving trends in these industries and will explore how the oil & gas sectors can adjust their forecasting and advance their technologies to account for these variabilities.

Featuring:

- Kathryn O'Connor Gardner Senior VP, High Yield Credit Research - Energy, AllianceBernstein
- Jenny Liu Director, Generation Resource Management, NYPA
- Christi Tezak Managing Director, Clear View Energy Partners
